Research Process and its Objectives
REPORT

Topic: Research Process and its Objectives

Date: 27 August, 2020

OBJECTIVE OF THE SEMINAR:

1. Research objectives describe what your research is trying to achieve and explain why you are pursuing it.
2. They summarize the approach and purpose of your project and help to focus your research.
3. Establish the scope and depth of your project
4. Contribute to your research design
5. Indicate how your project will contribute to existing knowledge

The aim of the workshop was to enlighten the students on the meaning and relevance of research. The speaker for the day was Mr. Suresh Lorik Yadav. He is currently working as Assistant Professor in Nirmala College of Commerce.

The session was very nicely conducted, and began with the blessings of God and an introduction to Research Process and its Objectives. The session was very informative. The students were made aware about the meaning and importance of Research Practices. Further different techniques of conducting research were discussed. Overall, the students were very satisfied with the session and the queries were also solved. The innovative research is curiosity-led and open-ended in nature, using thematic explorations as the means to deepen or challenge the current understandings of humanitarian innovations and stay abreast of emerging trends in the field of humanitarian innovation.

Research objectives are important because they establish the scope and depth of your project: This helps you avoid unnecessary research. It also means that your research methods and conclusions can easily be evaluated. Contribute to your research design. When you know what your objectives are, you have a clearer idea of what methods are most appropriate for your research.

For Shri L P Raval College of Mass Media
& Management Studies

OUTCOME:

1. The workshop was very effective and appreciated by students and teachers.
2. The students were made aware of the importance of Innovative Research Practices.
3. To encourage and promote various innovative business techniques.
4. The participants well understood the importance of research techniques.
5. The students understood the different strategies and techniques of research methods.

PARTICIPANTS: Total number of participants were 51

Workshop on
Intellectual Property Rights – Meaning and Concept

REPORT

Topic: Intellectual Property Rights – Meaning and Concepts

Date : 21st October, 2020

OBJECTIVE OF THE WORKSHOP :

- IPR aims to stimulate inventors, creators, and innovators by granting them exclusive rights to their creations, fostering a culture of continuous innovation.
- It seeks to safeguard the rights of creators and inventors by providing legal mechanisms to prevent unauthorized use, reproduction, or exploitation of their intellectual creations.
- By providing creators with the means to monetize their creations, IPR fosters economic growth through the development of new industries, products, and services.

The aim of the workshop was to enlighten the students on the meaning and relevance of research. The speaker for the day was Mr. Praptikumar Vishwakarma. He is Currently working in Vidya Vikas College of Arts, Science and Commerce as an Assistant Professor.

Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) serve multifaceted objectives that collectively foster innovation, economic growth, and fair competition. By granting exclusive rights to creators and inventors, IPR encourages the development of new ideas and creative works. These rights not only protect the creators' investments but also incentivize them to share their knowledge, leading to technology transfer and global innovation. Furthermore, IPR safeguards cultural heritage, maintains product quality, and ensures consumer trust. Striking a balance between private rights and public interests, IPR plays a pivotal role in shaping industries, driving economic progress, and preserving the richness of human creativity and knowledge.

For Shri L P Raval College of Mass Media
& Management Studies
Principal

OUTCOME:

- Participants gain a clearer understanding of the concepts, types, and significance of IPR, allowing them to make informed decisions regarding their creations and innovations.
- Attendees become more aware of the legal and ethical implications of intellectual property, enabling them to navigate issues related to plagiarism, copyright infringement, and patent violations more effectively.
- The workshop's emphasis on IPR's role in rewarding innovation can inspire participants to generate new ideas and creative works, knowing their efforts will be protected and valued.

Characteristics of Entrepreneurship
REPORT

Topic: Characteristics of Entrepreneurship
Date: 17 September, 2020

OBJECTIVE OF THE SEMINAR:

1. Creation of Employment.
2. Ability to take a risk
3. Visionary and Leadership quality
4. Open-Minded, innovative
5. Supports research and development

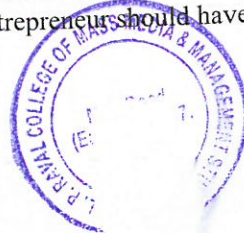

The aim of the workshop was to enlighten the students on the meaning and relevance of Entrepreneurship. The speaker for the day was Mr. Apurv Parker. He is currently working as Assistant Professor in Jai Bharat College of Commerce.

The session was very nicely conducted, and began with the blessings of God and an introduction to Characteristics of Entrepreneurship. The session was very informative. The students were made aware about the meaning and importance of Characteristics of Entrepreneurship. Further different techniques of conducting research were discussed. Overall, the students were very satisfied with the session and the queries were also solved. The innovative research is curiosity-led and open-ended in nature, using thematic explorations as the means to deepen or challenge the current understandings of humanitarian innovations and stay abreast of emerging trends in the field of humanitarian innovation.

Entrepreneurship generates employment. It is the hub of innovation that provides new product ventures, market, technology and quality of goods, etc., and increase the standard of living of people. It provides an entry-level job, required for gaining experience and training for unskilled workers. Society becomes greater if the employment base is large and diversified. It brings about changes in society and promotes facilities like higher expenditure on education, better sanitation, fewer slums, and a higher level of homeownership. To be successful, the entrepreneur should have a clear vision of

OBJECTIVE OF THE SEMINAR:

1. Strategic Thinking
2. Commercial Aptitude.
3. Networking
4. Decisiveness
5. Customer Sensitivity
6. Integrity and persistence

The aim of the workshop was to enlighten the students on the meaning and relevance of Entrepreneurship Competencies. The speaker for the day was Mr. Hamza Usmani. He is currently working as Assistant Professor in Nirmala College of Commerce.

The entrepreneur is prepared to use fresh approaches, comes up with crazy ideas that may just work, leading to radical change or significant improvements and takes time to listen to new ideas without pre-judgement. Networking is a key business activity which can provide access to information, expertise, collaboration and sales; and that careful planning and preparation helps achieve desired results. The entrepreneur understands and values the planning process, thinking and planning over a significant timescale, recognises external trends and opportunities, and is able to think through any complex implications for the business. The entrepreneur resolves issues as they arise, does not get bogged down in analysis during decision making, and responds flexibly to deal with changing priorities. The entrepreneur builds trust and long term relationships with customers; generates an expectation of high level of customer service; and regularly exceeds customer expectation

How to write Research Paper
REPORT

Topic : How to write Research Paper
Date : 11th August, 2021

OBJECTIVE OF THE WORKSHOP :

1. To define a well-focused problem statement and formulate a clear research question or objective that outlines the purpose and scope of the research paper.
2. To conduct a comprehensive literature review that establishes the context, identifies gaps, and demonstrates familiarity with existing research on the topic.
3. To select an appropriate research methodology and design a robust research plan that allows for the collection of reliable and relevant data.

The aim of the webinar was to enlighten the students on the meaning and relevance of research. The speaker for the day was Asst. Prof. Bhavesh Kapuria He is Currently working in Vidya Vikas College of Arts, Science and Commerce as Assistant Professor .

State the problem in a concise and focused manner, ensuring that it is significant and relevant to your field of study. Formulate a research question or objective that provides a specific goal for your research. This will help guide your research process and provide a clear direction for your paper. Review relevant academic literature, articles, books, and other sources related to your research topic. Summarize and synthesize the key findings, methodologies, and theories from existing studies. Identify gaps, contradictions, and areas where further research is needed. This step will help you position your research within the broader academic discourse and contribute to your paper's theoretical framework.

Clearly outline the research design, including data collection methods, tools, and procedures. Justify your choices and explain how your chosen methodology aligns with your research goals. A solid research design enhances the credibility of your findings and supports the validity of your conclusions. Analyze the data you've collected using appropriate techniques, whether qualitative or quantitative. Interpret the results within the context of your research question. Avoid overinterpretation and ensure your conclusions are grounded in the data and aligned with your research objectives.

OUTCOME:

1. A well-defined and focused problem statement that highlights the research's significance.
2. Identification of gaps, contradictions, and areas for further exploration.

For Shri L. P. Raval College of Mass Media & Management Studies

Qualitative Research Methodology

REPORT

Topic: Qualitative Research Methodology

Date: 3rd February, 2022

OBJECTIVE OF THE WORKSHOP :

- This methodology aims to provide a detailed and nuanced description of the subject under study.
- Qualitative research is often used to explore and discover new insights, ideas, and perspectives.
- Qualitative research acknowledges the subjectivity of human experiences and aims to capture diverse interpretations of the same phenomenon. It explores how individuals construct meaning from their experiences.

The aim of the workshop was to enlighten the students on the meaning and relevance of research. The speaker for the day was Asst. Prof. Mrs. Glenna D'Silva. She is currently working in Nirmala College of Commerce as an Assistant Professor.

Qualitative research methodology aims to uncover hidden meanings, explore human experiences in their contextual richness, and delve into the intricate dynamics of social phenomena. Its objectives encompass understanding the unique perspectives of participants, building and refining theories, providing in-depth descriptions of subjects, and elucidating the influence of culture and society. By embracing subjectivity, qualitative research complements quantitative data, offering insights into the "why" and "how" behind trends. It also seeks to inform policy, enhance understanding of processes over time, and ensure the validity and trustworthiness of findings through rigorous methodologies.

OUTCOME:

- Qualitative research aims to reveal hidden meanings and explore human experiences within their contextual richness.
- The methodology focuses on understanding participants' distinct viewpoints and experiences.
- It helps in understanding processes and changes over time, capturing developmental aspects in social dynamics.

Workshop on
Research Methods

REPORT

Topic : Research Methods

Date : 11th January, 2022

OBJECTIVE OF THE WORKSHOP :

- Research methods are used to investigate and explore phenomena, problems, or questions of interest
- Research methods facilitate the collection of relevant data and information in a structured and systematic manner.
- Research methods are employed to validate and verify existing knowledge or theories.

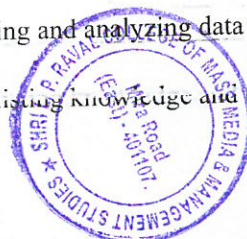

The aim of the workshop was to enlighten the students on the meaning and relevance of research. The speaker for the day was Mrs. Khusbu Ruparel. She is Currently working in L.N. Degree College as an Assistant Professor.

Research methods serve to systematically investigate and explore various subjects, uncovering new knowledge and generating hypotheses. They facilitate structured data collection and analysis, helping researchers identify trends, relationships, and patterns to address specific questions. Moreover, research methods contribute to validating existing knowledge by rigorously testing theories, while also fostering the development and refinement of new theories through evidence-based examination. Overall, these objectives collectively contribute to advancing understanding, knowledge, and the reliability of information in diverse fields.

OUTCOME:

- Research methods provide a deeper understanding of phenomena, issues, or questions through systematic investigation and analysis.
- They generate valuable insights by collecting and analyzing data to uncover trends, correlations, and patterns.
- Research methods validate or challenge existing knowledge and theories, ensuring the accuracy and reliability of information.

For Shri L P Raval College of Mass Media

Workshop on
Research Methodology & Data Management

REPORT

Topic : Research Methodology & Data Management
Date : 22nd September 2021

OBJECTIVE OF THE WORKSHOP :

- Develop a systematic and structured research design that outlines data collection methods and analysis procedures.
- Implement streamlined processes to collect data effectively while minimizing errors and redundancies.
- Establish procedures for data validation and maintenance to uphold accuracy.
- Safeguard data through secure storage and ethical handling practices.

The aim of the workshop was to enlighten the students on the meaning and relevance of research. The speaker for the day was Ms. Pallavi Ghorpade. She is Currently working in L. N. Degree College as an Assistant Professor.

The objectives of research methodology encompass defining research objectives, devising a structured plan for data collection and analysis, ensuring the accuracy and relevance of gathered data, and deriving meaningful insights from analysed information. These objectives guide the systematic exploration of research questions, leading to informed conclusions and contributing to knowledge advancement within the chosen field.

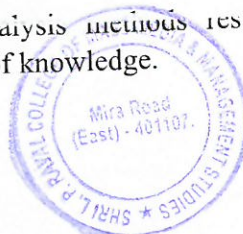

The objectives of data management involve implementing efficient data collection processes, organizing collected data logically for easy access and utilization, maintaining data accuracy and consistency through validation and quality checks, and safeguarding data integrity and privacy through secure handling practices. These objectives ensure reliable and ethically responsible management of research data, supporting valid outcomes and trustworthy research findings.

OUTCOME:

- Clear research goals and effective planning lead to well-structured studies that provide valuable insights and meaningful conclusions.
- Systematic data collection and appropriate analysis methods result in well-founded conclusions that contribute to the advancement of knowledge.

For Shri L. P. Raval College of Mass Media

Workshop on
Awareness on Intellectual Property Rights

REPORT

Topic: Awareness on Intellectual Property Rights
Date : 25th November , 2021

OBJECTIVE OF THE WORKSHOP:

- IPR provide individuals and organizations with exclusive rights to their creations and inventions.
- IPR help safeguard the rights of creators and inventors against unauthorized use, reproduction, distribution, and commercial exploitation of their creations.
- Intellectual property rights allow creators and inventors to receive fair compensation for their work.

The aim of the workshop was to enlighten the students on the meaning and relevance of research. The speaker for the day was Mr. Udaybhan Yadav. He is Currently working in Thakur Shyamnarayan Degree College as an Assistant Professor.

Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) encompass a set of objectives aimed at developing innovation, creativity, and economic growth while protecting creators' rights. These objectives include encouraging inventors and artists through legal safeguards and rewards, ensuring equitable compensation, promoting technology transfer across borders, and facilitating the disclosure of knowledge. IPR also seek to strike a balance between private rights and public interests, prevent unfair competition, preserve cultural heritage, and establish international standards for intellectual property protection.

For Shri L P Raval College of Mass Media
& Management Studies
Principal

OUTCOME:

- Strong IPR systems stimulate economic growth by fostering a competitive environment that encourages innovation.
- While IPR grant exclusive rights to creators, they also contribute to knowledge sharing and collaboration.
- IPR incentivize individuals and organizations to invest in research, development, and creative endeavours by offering legal protection and the potential for financial rewards.

Workshop on
Entrepreneurial Leadership & Innovation
REPORT

Topic: Entrepreneurial Leadership & Innovation

Date : 7th December, 2021

OBJECTIVE OF THE WORKSHOP :

- One of the key objectives of entrepreneurial leadership is to identify opportunities for innovation.
- Entrepreneurial leaders aim to cultivate an organizational culture that encourages and values innovation.
- Entrepreneurial leaders seek to stimulate creativity by providing resources, time, and support for brainstorming and idea generation.
- 4. Entrepreneurial leadership focuses on continuous improvement and incremental innovation.

The aim of the workshop was to enlighten the students on the meaning and relevance of research. The speaker for the day was Ms. Neelam Maurya. She is Currently working in Rajasthani Sammelan's Ladhidevi Ramdhar Maheshwari Night College of Commerce as an Assistant Professor.

Entrepreneurial leadership in innovation aims to foster a dynamic workplace culture where innovation thrives. This entails encouraging employees to think creatively and seek novel solutions to challenges. By staying attuned to emerging trends and customer needs, leaders identify opportunities for new ventures and ventures. To do so, they promote calculated risk-taking and view failures as valuable learning experiences. Simultaneously, they prioritize ongoing improvement, enhancing existing processes, products, and services. This approach extends to supporting internal entrepreneurial initiatives and swiftly adapting to market changes. By building diverse, collaborative teams and endorsing experimentation, leaders ensure that innovative ideas are explored and refined. Ultimately, the overarching objective is to achieve a competitive edge by consistently delivering innovative solutions that challenge industry norms and disrupt markets.

OUTCOME:

For Shri L P Raval College of Mass Media
& Management Studies

Principal

A culture that values innovation fosters creative thinking and novel approaches to challenges, leading to more effective problem-solving across the organization.

The identification of opportunities and encouragement of risk-taking result in the development of new and improved products or services that meet evolving customer demands.

Consistent delivery of innovative solutions sets the organization apart from competitors, attracting customers and establishing a unique market position.

The ability to adapt swiftly to changing market conditions and emerging trends ensures the organization remains relevant and resilient.

Entrepreneurial Ecosystems and Startup Success
REPORT

Topic: Entrepreneurial Ecosystems and Startup Success

Date : 7th September, 2021

OBJECTIVE OF THE WORKSHOP:

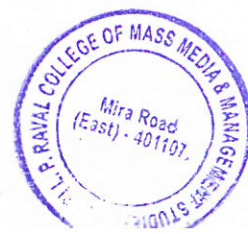

- Develop a compelling and unique value proposition that addresses a specific problem or need in the market
- Validate the demand for your product or service through research, surveys, and prototype testing before fully launching.
- Focus on understanding and meeting the needs of your target customers to build a loyal user base.
- Design a business model that can grow and adapt as your startup gains traction, while maintaining profitability.

The aim of the workshop was to enlighten the students on the meaning and relevance of research. The speaker for the day was Mr. Vishal Ramesh. He is Currently working in Bunts Sanghas Ramanath Payyade College of Hospitality Management Studies as an Assistant Professor.

Startup success hinges on crafting a unique value proposition, validating market demand, fostering customer-centric strategies, building a skilled and motivated team, managing finances judiciously, embracing innovation and adaptability, forging strategic partnerships, ensuring legal compliance, setting achievable milestones, and maintaining resilience to navigate challenges—all working collectively to create a strong foundation for growth, sustainability, and market prominence. The primary objectives for achieving startup success encompass developing a compelling value proposition validated by market research, nurturing a customer-focused approach for sustained growth, establishing a strong team with diverse skills, ensuring financial stability through prudent management, continuously innovating and adapting based on feedback, building effective partnerships, adhering to legal and regulatory requirements, and setting clear, measurable milestones while maintaining a resilient and adaptable mindset.

Business Ideas & Entrepreneurship
REPORT

Topic: Business Ideas & Entrepreneurship

Date : 16th September, 2021

OBJECTIVE OF THE WORKSHOP :

- The primary objective of most businesses is to generate profit and create a sustainable revenue stream that exceeds expenses and investments.
- Entrepreneurship often revolves around bringing innovative products, services, or solutions to the market, aiming to fill gaps and meet unmet needs.
- Businesses aim to capture a larger share of the market by expanding their customer base and increasing their sales and revenue.
- Creating value for customers through products or services that solve problems, enhance convenience, or improve quality of life.

The aim of the workshop was to enlighten the students on the meaning and relevance of research. The speaker for the day was Ms. Suparna Bhaktawal. She is Currently working in Vidya Vikas College of Arts, Science and Commerce as an Assistant Professor.

Business ideas and entrepreneurship encompass a diverse set of objectives. These include profit generation, innovation, market growth, and value creation. Entrepreneurs also seek scalability, job creation, and sustainability, while emphasizing customer satisfaction and brand building. Some entrepreneurs focus on social impact, market disruption, and global expansion, while others prioritize personal fulfilment, influence, and continuous learning. Financial independence, legacy building, and risk management are equally crucial aspects of entrepreneurial pursuits. These objectives shape the landscape of entrepreneurship, reflecting individual aspirations, industry dynamics, and evolving societal needs, driving innovation, and economic growth.

OUTCOME:

Successful entrepreneurship leads to increased economic activity, job creation, and market expansion, contributing to local and national economic growth.

Workshop on
How to become an Entrepreneur
REPORT

Topic: How to become an Entrepreneur
Date : 28th October, 2021

OBJECTIVE OF THE WORKSHOP :

- Clearly define what makes your product or service unique and why customers should choose it over alternatives.
- Test your idea with a smaller audience through surveys, prototypes, or minimum viable products (MVPs) to gather feedback and validate demand.
- Develop a healthy risk-taking mindset, while also understanding how to mitigate potential risks and make informed decisions.

The aim of the workshop was to enlighten the students on the meaning and relevance of research. The speaker for the day was Mrs. Abha Ruparel. She is Currently working in Nirmala College of Commerce as an Assistant Professor.

To become an entrepreneur, start by identifying and validating a viable business idea through thorough market research and validation methods. Cultivate essential entrepreneurial skills such as continuous learning, adaptability, and risk management, while fostering a growth-oriented mindset. Once equipped, focus on building a solid business plan, executing effectively to develop a valuable product or service, and strategizing for scalability as your venture gains momentum. Remember, entrepreneurship demands dedication, resilience, and the ability to learn from both successes and setbacks.

OUTCOME:

- Successfully identify a market gap and launch a product or service that fulfils a specific need or solves a problem.
- Become a more effective communicator, negotiator, and leader, fostering professional development beyond the entrepreneurial sphere.
